

New Book Released

STANLEY J. FARMER: WE CALLED HIM COACH
ISBN: 978-1-935186-92-2. Paperback
6" x 9" - 208 pages - 175 photographs.
Published by Waldenhouse Publishers, Inc., Walden, TN

This book is a great and fun read! If you love Central, then it is a MUST read, but if you love and care about young people, then it should not be missed. Coach Farmer's life was a model of what it means to "pay it forward."

Finley King, Principal, Central High School, Chattanooga, Tennessee

Only Jerry Summers could tell this tale so beautifully. As one who was deeply influenced by a "Coach" in high school, Jerry Summers' priceless portrait of Stan Farmer meant more to me than most, and I am blessed by that. Stan Farmer did far more than educate, coach or make a way for Central students. His was a rich, abiding love for all people – he adored it when integration turned black and white athletes into the same shade of purple. Thanks to my friend Jerry for telling this legend's story and kindling the hope somewhere another coach may influence the next generation of "us."

Roy Exum, Chattanooga.com writer and former Sports Editor, Chattanooga News-Free Press

STANLEY J. FARMER: WE CALLED HIM COACH

Jerry H. Summers

Author Jerry H. Summers is a practicing attorney in Chattanooga, Tennessee. He is a 1959 graduate of Central High School.

All proceeds go to the Community Foundation of Greater Chattanooga (CFGC) a 501(c)(3) corporation for the
Stan Farmer College Scholarship Fund at Central High School

Make checks for $21.95, plus $4.50 shipping, payable to CFGC - Central Stan Farmer Scholarship Fund

Books can be purchased directly from Summers, Rufolo & Rodgers
735 Broad Street, Suite 800, Chattanooga, TN 37402 <http://www.summersfirm.com/Firm-News.shtml>
For order confirmation, please include phone or e-mail along with name and complete mailing address.